mahāsaḷāyatanikasuttaṃ

1. Thus was heard by me: At one time the Auspicious One was dwelling in Savatthi at Jeta's Grove, Anathapindika's Park. At that place the Auspicious One addressed the bhikkhus: "Bhikkhus." "Bhante," those bhikkhus replied to the Auspicious One. The Auspicious One said this:

evaṃ me sutam: ekaṃ samayaṃ bhagavā sāvatthiyaṃ viharati jetavane anāthapiṇḍikassa ārāme. tatra kho bhagavā bhikkhū āmantesi bhikkhavo'ti. bhadante'ti te bhikkhū bhagavato paccassosum. bhagavā etadavoca:

2. "The great six [sense] domains, O bhikkhus, I will expound for you. Listen to that and do mind it well, I will speak."

mahāsaḷāyatanikaṃ vo bhikkhave desessāmi taṃ suṇātha sādhukaṃ manasi karotha bhāsissāmi.

3. "Yes Bhante," those bhikkhus replied to the Auspicious One. The Auspicious One said this:

evaṃ bhanteti kho te bhikkhū bhagavato paccassosum. bhagavā etadavoca:

4. O bhikkhus, one who does not know and does not see the eye as it has come to be, one who does not know and does not see forms as they have come to be, one who does not know and does not see eye-consciousness as it has come to be, one who does not know and does not see eye-contact as it has come to be, and this feeling which arises in dependence on eye-contact, whether pleasant or painful or neither-painful-nor-pleasant, that too one who does not know and does not see it as it has come to be, becomes pleased in the eye, becomes pleased in forms, becomes pleased in eye-consciousness, becomes pleased in eye-contact, and this feeling which arises in dependence on eye-contact, whether pleasant or painful or neither-painful-nor-pleasant, that too one becomes pleased in it.

And for he who abides impassioned, attached, oblivious, seeing in accordance with gratification, his five stocks of appropriation go to expansion for future [being]; and his thirsting—the renewer of being, accompanied by lusting after delight, delighting now here now there—increases.
