222. Whichever beings are assembled here whether earth-bound or those of the air, may all beings be only happy in mind
 then also having prepared well, they must listen to what is spoken.

223. Therefore all you beings must indeed listen
 you must do the safeguarding of the human population,
 those who by day and by night offer religious offerings
 therefore indeed you must protect them with much vigilance.

224. Whichever riches are in this world or in the other world
 or the excellent gems which are in the heavens,

 there is none which compares with the Tathagata.
 This here is the excellent gem in the Buddha.
 By this truth may there be well-being.

225. Destruction, fading away, the deathless, the most excellent
 which the serene Sakkian sage experienced,
 there is nothing on par with that dhamma.

This here too is the excellent gem in the Dhamma.

By this truth may there be well-being.

226. That purity which the most excellent Buddha entirely praised, the samadhi without interval that is said to be different.

A samadhi from which one can compare with it is not to be found.

This here too is the excellent gem in the Dhamma.

By this truth may there be well-being.

227. Those eight individuals praised by the good,
these are the four pairs.

Those are the Well-farer's disciples, worthy of offerings.

What is offered in this [field] yield great fruits.

This here too is the excellent gem in the Sangha.

By this truth may there be well-being.

228. Those who apply [themselves] with a firm mind, desireless in Gotama's instructions,

these, having plunged into the deathless, are quenched, enjoying what they have attained at no cost.

 This here too is the excellent gem in the San-
 gha.
 By this truth may there be well-being.

229. Just as a strong city gate post attached to the earth could not be shaken by the four winds,
 in a similar way I say of the true man,
 who, having known, sees the noble truths.
 This here too is the excellent gem in the San-
 gha.
 By this truth may there be well-being.

230. To whomever the noble truths clearly come to be,
 which is well taught by the one with deep
 wisdom,
 however much they become heedless,
 do not take up an eighth state of being.
 This here too is the excellent gem in the San-
 gha.
 By this truth may there be well-being.

231. Along with the attainment of vision, these three dhammas are abandoned,
 the personality view and doubt also whatever virtue and [religious] duties there are.
 And one is freed from the four woeful planes,

and not able to do the six higher causes [for downfall].

This here too is the excellent gem in the San-
gha.

By this truth may there be well-being.

232. However much evil deed one does,
by body or speech or from the mind,
one is incapable of having concealed it.

For [such] impossibility is said for one who has seen the path.

This here too is the excellent gem in the San-
gha.

By this truth may there be well-being.

233. Just as the woodland thicket puts forth its flowers,

in the first summer month during the hot season.

In a similar way is the excellent Dhamma taught,

for the highest welfare, leading to nibbāna.

This here too is the excellent gem in the Buddha.

By this truth may there be well-being.

234. The auspicious one, knower of the auspicious, giver of the auspicious, bringer of the auspicious.

The one who taught that unsurpassed, auspicious Dhamma.

 This here too is the excellent gem in the Buddha.
 By this truth may there be well-being.

235. Obliterated is what came before, there is no new origination
 From a detached mind in future becoming,
 the seeds obliterated [with] no desire for growth, those wise ones are extinguished, just as this lamp.
 This here too is the excellent gem in the San-
 gha.
 By this truth may there be well-being.
