

0.0.1 Delight in Company

0. source: Savatthi

1. “Indeed, O bhikkhus, that bhikkhus who delight in company, who are delighted with company, who are devoted to delight in company, who delight in a group, who are delighted with a group, who are devoted to delight in a group, will find pleasure while alone in seclusion,” this possibility is not to be found. “That one not delighting in seclusion while alone will grasp the sign of the mind,” this possibility is not to be found. “That one not grasping sign of the mind will fulfill right view,” this possibility is not to be found. “That one not having fulfilled right view will fulfill right samadhi,” this possibility is not to be found. “That one not having fulfilled right samadhi will abandon the fetters,” this possibility is not to be found. “That one not having abandon the fetters will realize nibbana,” this possibility is not to be found.

2. “Indeed, O bhikkhus, that bhikkhus who do not delight in company, who are not delighted with company, who are nor devoted to delight in company, who do not delight in a group, who are not delighted with a group, who are not devoted to delight in a group, will find pleasure while alone in seclusion,” this possibility is to be found. “That one delighting in seclusion while alone will grasp the sign of the mind,” this possibility is to be found. “That one grasping sign of the mind will fulfill right view,” this possibility is to be found. “That one having fulfilled right view will fulfill right samadhi,” this possibility is to be found. “That one having fulfilled right samadhi will abandon the fetters,” this possibility is to be found. “That one having abandon the fetters will realize nibbana,” this possibility is to be found.