64. Then, O bhikkhus, for the Bodhisatta Vipassi, gone to a lonely place in his dwelling, while he was in seclusion, a reflection arose in his mind thus: “Indeed this world has fallen into difficulty, [in that] it is born, becomes old, and dies, passes away and arises, but now does not understand the stepping out of this suffering, of old age and death. When indeed will the stepping out of this suffering, of old age and death become evident?”

65. Then, O bhikkhus, it occurred to the Bodhisatta Vipassi: “Old age and death come to be when there is what herein, in dependence on what is there old age and death?” Then, O bhikkhus, from the Bodhisatta Vipassi’s root cause consideration, there came to be a breakthrough by wisdom: “Old age and death come to be when there is birth herein, in dependence on birth, there are old age and death.”

66. Then, O bhikkhus, it occurred to the Bodhisatta Vipassi: “Birth comes to be when there is what herein, in dependence on what is there birth?” Then, O bhikkhus, from the Bodhisatta Vipassi’s root cause consideration, there came to be a breakthrough by wisdom: “Birth comes to be when there is being herein, in dependence on being, there is birth.”
