

0.0.1 Vasudatta

0. At Savatthi

1. Having stood at one side, Vasudatta, son of the devas spoke this verse in the Auspicious One's presence:

“As if struck with a sword,
or [hair] on the head is
in flames;
a bhikkhu should wander
about mindfully,
for abandoning sensual
lust.”

(The Auspicious One:)
“As if struck with a sword,
or [hair] on the head is
in flames;
a bhikkhu should wander
about mindfully,
for abandoning self-affirmation
view.”

vasudattasuttam

sāvatthiyam

ekamantam t̥hito
kho vasudatto deva-
putto bhagavato san-
tike imam gātham
abhāsi:

sattiyā viya omatt̥ho,
ḍayhamānova<sup>1</sup> mat-
thake;
kāmarāgappahāṇāya,
sato bhikkhu parib-
baje'ti.

(bhagava:) sattiyā
viya omatt̥ho,
ḍayhamānova mat-
thake;
sakkāyadit̥hippahā-
ṇāya,
sato bhikkhu parib-
baje'ti.

