1. Then, the brahmin Janussoni visited with the Auspicious One. Upon arrival, he exchanged friendly greetings with the Auspicious One. Having exchanged friendly greetings and cordial talk, he sat down to one side. Having sat down to one side, the brahmin Janussoni said this to the Auspicious One:

2. Indeed I, O Master Gotama, am one of such doctrine, such view: “There is not one who, not fearing being liable to death, is not afraid of the undergoing of death.”

3. There are, O brahmin, those who, fearing being liable to death, are afraid of the undergoing of death. However, O brahmin, there are those who, not fearing being liable to death, are not afraid of the undergoing of death.

4. And who, O brahmin, fearing being liable to death, is afraid of the undergoing of death?

5. Here, O brahmin, a certain one is not rid of lust, not rid of desire, not rid of affection, not rid of thirst, not rid of fever, not rid of greed in sensual pleasures. A severe disease or sickness is contacted by that certain one. It occurs to that certain one contacted by the severe

Just as, O Master Gotama, one might set upright what has been overturned, or open up what has been closed, or show a path to one who is lost, or bear an oil lamp in the darkness so that those with good eyesight can see forms, just so has the Dhamma been explained by the venerable Gotama in countless ways. I go, to the Auspicious Gotama, as refuge, and to the Dhamma, and to the Sangha of bhikkhus. May Master Gotama bear it in mind, that I am a lay disciple who has gone for refuge from today for as long as life lasts.
