

0.0.1 Delicate

sukhumālo sutta

1. I was delicate, O bhikkhus, supremely delicate, excessively delicate. Indeed at my father's residence, these lotus ponds were built purposely for me. In one entirely white lotuses were planted, in one red lotuses, in one blue lotuses. I, O bhikkhus, did not wear sandalwood that were not from Kasi. My turbans, O bhikkhus, were from Kasi, my jackets were from Kasi, my inner robes were from Kasi, my outer robes were from Kasi. A white parasol, O bhikkhus, was held over me day and night [with the thought]: "Let neither cold, nor heat, nor grass, nor dust, nor dew touch him." For me, O bhikkhus, there were three mansions: one for the cold season, one for the hot season, one for the rainy season. During the four months of the rainy season, O bhikkhus, I amused myself in the rainy season mansion with entirely female musicians without descending to the lower floors of the mansion. And just as, O bhikkhus, at other residences, servants, labourers and employees were offered meal of rice husk porridge accompanied with sour gruel, in exactly the same way, O bhikkhus, at my father's residence, servants, labourers and employees were offered meal of fine rice accompanied with meat.

2. Of me being endowed with such great fortune, O bhikkhus, with such delicacy, it occurred to me: “For the Dhamma-deaf puthujjana, himself being liable to old age, not exempt [from old age], having seen others who are old, becomes troubled, humiliated, disgusted, having overlooked his own [liability]. But if I, being liable to old age, not exempt [from old age], having seen others who are old, were to become troubled, humiliated, disgusted, that would not be proper for me.” Of me, O bhikkhus, reflecting thus, I abandoned all the youth’s intoxication with youth.

3. “For the Dhamma-deaf puthujjana, himself being liable to sickness, not exempt [from sickness], having seen others who are sick, becomes troubled, humiliated, disgusted, having overlooked his own [liability]. But if I, being liable to sickness, not exempt [from sickness], having seen others who are sick, were to become troubled, humiliated, disgusted, that would not be proper for me.” Of me, O bhikkhus, reflecting thus, I abandoned all the youth’s intoxication with health.

4. “For the Dhamma-deaf puthujjana, himself being liable to death, not exempt [from death], having seen others who are dead, becomes troubled, humiliated, disgusted, having overlooked his own [liability]. But if I, being liable to death, not exempt [from death], having seen others who are dead, were to become troubled, humiliated, disgusted, that would not be proper for me.” Of me, O bhikkhus, reflecting thus, I abandoned all the youth’s intoxication with life.

5. There are, O bhikkhus, these three intoxications. Which three? Intoxication with youth, intoxication with health, intoxication with life.

tayo’me bhikkhave madā. katame tayo: yobbana-mado, ārogyamado, jīvitamado.

6. Being intoxicated with youth, O bhikkhus, the Dhamma-deaf puthujjana, conducts himself with bad bodily conduct, he conducts himself with bad verbal conduct, he conducts himself with bad mental conduct. He having conducted himself with bad bodily conduct, having conducted himself with bad verbal conduct, having conducted himself with bad mental conduct, with the breakup of the body, after death, he arises in the lower worlds, an unhappy destination, the woeful plane, hell.

yobbanamadamatto vā bhikkhave assutavā puthujjano kāyena duccharitaṃ carati, vācāya duccharitaṃ carati, manasā duccharitaṃ carati. so kāyena duccharitaṃ caritvā, vācāya duccharitaṃ caritvā, manasā duccharitaṃ caritvā kāyassa bhedaṃ parammaraṇā apāyaṃ duggatiṃ vinipātaṃ nirayaṃ upapajjati.

6. Or being intoxicated with health, O bhikkhus, the Dhamma-deaf puthujjana, conducts himself with bad bodily conduct, he conducts himself with bad verbal conduct, he conducts himself with bad mental conduct. He having conducted himself with bad bodily conduct, having conducted himself with bad verbal conduct, having conducted himself with bad mental conduct, with the breakup of the body, after death, he arises in the lower worlds, an unhappy destination, the woeful plane, hell.

ārogyamadamatto vā bhikkhave assutavā puthujjano kāyena duccaritaṃ carati, vācāya duccaritaṃ carati, manasā duccaritaṃ carati. so kāyena duccaritaṃ caritvā, vācāya duccaritaṃ caritvā, manasā duccaritaṃ caritvā kāyassa bhedaṃ parammaraṇā apāyaṃ duggatiṃ vinipātaṃ nirayaṃ upapajjati.

7. Or being intoxicated with life, O bhikkhus, the Dhamma-deaf puthujjana, conducts himself with bad bodily conduct, he conducts himself with bad verbal conduct, he conducts himself with bad mental conduct. He having conducted himself with bad bodily conduct, having conducted himself with bad verbal conduct, having conducted himself with bad mental conduct, with the breakup of the body, after death, he arises in the lower worlds, an unhappy destination, the woeful plane, hell.

jīvitamadamatto vā bhikkhave assutavā puthujjano kāyena duccaritaṃ carati, vācāya duccaritaṃ carati, manasā duccaritaṃ carati. so kāyena duccaritaṃ caritvā, vācāya duccaritaṃ caritvā, manasā duccaritaṃ caritvā kāyassa bhedaṃ parammaraṇā apāyaṃ duggatiṃ vinipātaṃ nirayaṃ upapajjati.

8. “Being intoxicated with youth, O bhikkhus, a bhikkhu gives up the training and returns to what is inferior. Or being intoxicated with health, O bhikkhus, a bhikkhu gives up the training and returns to what is inferior. Or being intoxicated with life, O bhikkhus, a bhikkhu gives up the training and returns to what is inferior.”

yobbanamadamatto vā bhikkhave bhikkhu sikkhaṃ paccakkhāya hīnāyāvattati. ārogyamadamatto vā bhikkhave bhikkhu sikkhaṃ paccakāya hīnāyāvattati, jīvitamadamatto vā bhikkhave bhikkhu sikkhaṃ paccakkhāya hīnāyāvattatīti.

Liability to sickness, liability to old age,
then liability to death;
just so do they exist as is their nature,
yet the puthujjanas get disgusted.

vyādhidhammā jarādhammā,
atho maraṇadhammino;
yathā dhammā tathā santā,
jigucchanti puthujjanā.

If I were to be disgusted at this,
among beings of such nature;
this is not proper,
for me to abide in such a way.

ahaṃ cetam jiguccheyyam,
evaṃ dhammesu paṇīsu;
na metam patirūpassa,
mama evam vihārino.

That I dwelling thus,
 having known the dhamma of ownerlessness;
 In health and youth,
 in life those who are intoxicated.

sohaṃ evaṃ viharanto,
 ñatvā dhammaṃ nirūpadhiṃ;
 ārogye yobbanasmiṃ ca,
 jīvitasmiṃ ca ye madā.

I conquered all intoxications,
 having seen safety in renunciation;
 of me persevering [thus],
 I clearly saw nibbana.

sabbe made abhibhosmi,
 nekkhamme² daṭṭhu khemataṃ;
 tassa me ahu ussāho,
 nibbānaṃ abhipassato.

Now I am not able,
 to engage in sensual pleasures;
 totally devoted to celibacy,
 I will not turn back.

nāhaṃ bhabbo etarahi,
 kāmāni paṭisevitum;
 anivattī bhavissāmi,
 brahmacariyaparāyanoti.
