1. “One individual, O bhikkhus, arising in the world, arises for the welfare of many, for the happiness of many, out of compassion for the world, for the good, welfare and happiness of devas and humans. Who is that one individual? The Tathagata, the Arahant, the rightly self-awakened one. This, O bhikkhus, is that one individual who, arising in the world, arises for the welfare of many, for the happiness of many, out of compassion for the world, for the good, welfare and happiness of devas and humans.”
