1. “One individual, O bhikkhus, arising in the world, arises for the welfare of many, for the happiness of many, out of compassion for the world, for the good, welfare and happiness of devas and humans. Who is that one individual? One who is a holder of right view and undistorted vision. Having turned away many people from the untrue Dhamma, he causes to establish [them] in the true Dhamma. This, O bhikkhus, is that one individual who, arising in the world, arises for the welfare of many, for the happiness of many, out of compassion for the world, for the good, welfare and happiness of devas and humans.”
