1. “If, O bhikkhus, wanderers of other standpoints were to ask you thus: There are these three things, O friends. What three? Lust, hatred and delusion. These, O friends, are the three things. Of these three things, O friends, what is the distinction, what is the disparity, what is the difference? Thus asked, by the wanderers of other standpoints, O bhikkhus, how precisely would you answer?”

3. Well then, O bhikkhus, listen to that and do mind it well, I will speak.”. “Yes Bhante,” those bhikkhus replied to the Auspicious One. The Auspicious One said this:

Thus asked, by the wanderers of other standpoints, O bhikkhus, you should answer thus: “Lust, O friends, is little blameworthy but slow to fade away.
