1. At one time, the Auspicious One was living at Rājagaha at the Bamboo Grove, the Squirrel's Feeding Place. Then Moliyasivaka, the wanderer, visited with the Auspicious One. Upon arrival, he exchanged friendly greetings with the Auspicious One. Having exchange friendly greetings and cordial talk, he sat down to one side. Having sat down to one side, Moliyasivaka, the wonderer, said this to the Auspicious One: "There are, O Master Gotama, some samanas and brahmanas who hold such doctrine, such view: "Whatever this individual person experiences, whether pleasure, pain or neither pain nor pleasure, all that is caused by what was done in the past." Herein what does the venerable Gotama say?"

2. “There are some people here, O Sivaka, who experience feelings originating from bile. Even by oneself, O Sivaka, it can be known how some people here experience feelings originating from bile. It is also agreed upon as true in the world, O Sivaka, how some people here experience feelings originating from bile. Therein, O Sivaka, those samanas and brahmanas who hold such doctrine, such view: “Whatever this individual person experiences, whether pleasure, pain or neither pain nor pleasure, all that is caused by what was done in the past,” overstep their claim regarding that which can be known by oneself, and they overstep their claim regarding that which in the world is agreed upon as true. Therefore that is wrong on the part of those samanas and brahmanas, I say.”

10. When thus was said, Moliyasivaka, the wonderer, said this to the Auspicious One: “Excellent, O Master Gotama! Excellent, O Master Gotama! Just as, O Master Gotama, one might set upright what has been overturned, or open up what has been closed, or show a path to one who is lost, or bear an oil lamp in the darkness so that those with good eyesight can see forms, just so has the Dhamma been explained by the venerable Gotama in countless ways. I go, to the Auspicious Gotama, as refuge, and to the Dhamma, and to the Sangha of bhikkhus. May Master Gotama bear it in mind, that I am a lay disciple who has gone for refuge from today for as long as life lasts.”
