

0.1 Fear and Dread

bhayabheravasuttaṃ

1. Thus was heard by me. At one time the Auspicious One was dwelling in Sāvatti at Jeta's Grove, Anathapindikā's Park. Then, the Brahmin Janussoṇi visited with the Auspicious One. Upon arrival, he exchanged friendly greetings with the Auspicious One. Having exchanged friendly greetings and cordial talk, he sat down to one side. Having sat down to one side, the Brahmin Janussoṇi said this to the Auspicious One:

evaṃ me suttaṃ: ekaṃ samayaṃ bhagavā sāvatthiyaṃ viharati jetavane anāthapiṇḍikassa ārāme. atha kho jāṇussoṇi brāhmaṇo yena bhagavā tenu-pasaṅkami. upasaṅkamitvā bhagavatā saddhiṃ sammodi. sammodanīyaṃ kathaṃ sārāṇīyaṃ vītisāretvā ekamantaṃ nisīdi. ekamantaṃ nisinno kho jāṇussoṇi brāhmaṇo bhagavantam etadavoca:

2. “These young clansmen, O Master Gotama, who have gone forth from the home life into homelessness on account of faith in the venerable Gotama, for them the good Gotama is their forerunner, for them the good Gotama is very helpful, for them the good Gotama is their instigator, and that multitude undertake the imitation of the good Gotama.”

ye’me bho gotama kulaputtā bhavantam gotamam uddissa saddhā agārasmā anagāriyam pabbajitā, bhavam tesam gotamo pubbaṅgamo. bhavam te-sam gotamo bahukāro bhavam tesam gotamo sa-mādapetā. bhoto ca gotamassa sā janatā diṭṭhā-nugatim āpajjatīti.

3. “That is so, O Brahmin, that is so, O Brahmin. Those young clansmen, O Brahmin, who have gone forth from the home life into homelessness on account of faith in me, for them I am their forerunner, for them I am very helpful, for them I am their instigator, and that multitude undertake the imitation of me.”

4. “Indeed, O Master Gotama, secluded dwellings in remote jungle thickets in the forest are difficult to endure. [Living in] solitude is difficult to do. Loneliness is difficult to delight in. One would think the forests take away the mind of a bhikkhu who does not attain samadhi.”

durabhisambhavāni hi bho gotama, arañṇe vanapatthāni pantāni senāsanāni. dukkaraṃ pavivekaṃ. durabhiramaṃ ekatte. haranti maññe mano vanāni samādhim alabhamānassa bhikkhunoti.

5. “That is so, O Brahmin, that is so, O Brahmin. Indeed, O Brahmin, secluded dwellings in remote jungle thickets in the forest are difficult to endure. [Living in] solitude is difficult to do. Loneliness is difficult to delight in. One would think the forests take away the mind of a bhikkhu who does not attain samadhi.” O Brahmin, Formerly when I was just an awakened being, not yet fully awakened to supreme awakening, for me too, this occurred: “Indeed secluded dwellings in remote jungle thickets in the forest are difficult to endure. [Living in] solitude is difficult to do. Loneliness is difficult to delight in. One would think the forests take away the mind of a bhikkhu who does not attain samadhi.”

evameva brāhmaṇa, evameva brāhmaṇa. durabhisambhavāni hi brāhmaṇa, araññe vanapatthāni pantāni senāsanāni. dukkaraṃ pavivekaṃ. durabhiramaṃ ekatte haranti maññe mano vanāni samādhim alabhamānassa bhikkhunoti. mayhampi kho brāhmaṇa, pubbeva sambodhā anabhisambuddhassa bodhisattasseva sato etadahosi: “durabhisambhavāni hi kho araññe vanapatthāni pantāni senāsanāni. dukkaraṃ pavivekaṃ. durabhiramaṃ ekatte. haranti maññe mano vanāni samādhim alabhamānassa bhikkhuno”ti.

6. For me, O Brahmin, this occurred: “Whatever samanas or brahmanas make use of secluded dwellings in remote jungle thickets in the forest with unpurified bodily actions, then indeed with unpurified bodily actions as cause, those venerable samanas and brahmanas invoke unskillful fear and dread. But I am not one who makes use of secluded dwellings in remote jungle thickets in the forest with unpurified bodily actions. I am one whose bodily actions are purified. Indeed those noble ones who make use of secluded dwellings in remote jungle thickets in the forest with purified bodily actions, I am a certain one among them. Seeing this purified bodily actions within myself, O Brahmin, I dwelt even more unafraid in the forest.”

22. For me, O Brahmin, this occurred: “What if I were to dwell in such awe-inspiring and terrifying dwelling places like park shrines, forest shrines and tree shrines on the kind of nights that are well-known and distinguished, such as the nights of the fourteenth, the fifteenth, and the eighth days of the lunar fortnight. Perhaps I may see that fear and dread. So then O Brahmin, on a later occasion, I dwelled in such awe-inspiring and terrifying dwelling places like park shrines, forest shrines and tree shrines on the kind of nights that are well-known and distinguished, such as the nights of the fourteenth, the fifteenth, and the eighth days of the lunar fortnight. And of me dwelling there, O Brahmin, a deer would come, or a peacock would break off a tree branch, or the wind would stir a heap of falling leaves. For me, O Brahmin, this occurred: “Surely this is that fear and dread coming.”.

24. Yet there are, O Brahmin, some samanās and brah-

They only perceive: “Day is the same as night.” This I say

However I, O Brahmin, only perceive: “Night is the same which, O Brahmin, one rightly saying would say: “A being of non-delusion nature has arisen in the world, for the welfare of many, for the happiness of many, out of compassion for the world, for the good, welfare and happiness of devas and humans,” it would be just of me that one rightly saying would say: “A being of non-delusion nature has arisen in the world, for the welfare of many, for the happiness of many, out of compassion for the world, for the good, welfare and happiness of devas and humans,”

25. For me, O Brahmin, unsluggish energy was aroused. Unmuddled mindfulness was established. My body was tranquil and at ease, my mind was unified and attained to samadhi. Quite secluded from sense-desires, O Brahmin, secluded from unwholesome dhammas, I entered upon and abided in the happiness and pleasure born of seclusion, connected with thinking and pondering, the first jhana. From the subsiding of thinking and pondering, with the internal tranquilization and unification of mind, without thinking and pondering, I entered upon and abided in the happiness and pleasure born of samadhi, the second jhana. With the fading away of happiness, I, dwelling mindful and contemplative, looked on with equanimity as I experienced pleasure in the body, of which the Noble Ones say: “The equanimous dweller in pleasure is the mindful one,” I entered upon and abided in the third jhana. From the abandoning of [physical] pleasure and pain, from the extinction of former mental pleasure and mental pain, I entered upon and abided in the utter purity of mindfulness and equanimity without pain, without pleasure, the fourth jhana.

26. When my samadhi was thus purified, cleansed, unblemished, devoid of defilements, malleable, workable, steady, and attained to imperturbability, I directed it to knowledge of the recollection of past abodes. I recollected my manifold past abodes, that is, one birth, two births, three births, four births, five births, ten births, twenty births, thirty births, forty births, fifty births, a hundred births, a thousand births, a hundred thousand births, many aeons of world-contraction, many aeons of world expansion, many aeons of world-contraction and expansion thus: “There I was so named, of such a clan, with such an appearance, such was my nutriment, such my experience of pleasure and pain, such my life span; and passing away from there, I appeared elsewhere; and there too I was so named, of such a clan, with such an appearance, such was my nutriment, such my experience of pleasure and pain, such my life span; and passing away from there, I appeared here.” Thus with their aspects and particulars, I recollected my manifold past abodes. This, O Brahmin, was the first noble knowledge attained by me in the first watch of the night. Ignorance was abandoned, noble knowledge arose. Darkness was abandoned, light arose, as happens for one dwelling vigilant, ardent and

27. When my samadhi was thus purified, cleansed, unblemished, devoid of defilements, malleable, workable, steady, and attained to imperturbability, I directed it to knowledge of the passing away and reappearance of beings. With the divine eye, which is purified and surpasses the human, I saw beings passing away and appearing, inferior and superior, beautiful and ugly, fortunate and unfortunate. I understood how beings pass on according to their kamma thus: “These worthy beings who were ill-conducted in body, speech, and mind, revilers of Noble Ones, wrong in their views, giving effect to wrong view in their actions, on the dissolution of the body, after death, have reappeared in a state of deprivation, in a bad destination, in perdition, even in hell; but these worthy beings who were well-conducted in body, speech, and mind, not revilers of Noble Ones, right in their views, giving effect to right view in their actions, on the dissolution of the body, after death, have reappeared in a good destination, even in the heavenly world.” Thus with the divine eye, which is purified and surpasses the human, I saw beings passing away and appearing, inferior and superior, beautiful and ugly, fortunate and unfortunate, and I understood how beings pass on according to their kamma. This, O Brahmin, was the second noble knowledge attained by me in the second watch of the night. Ignorance was abandoned, noble knowledge arose. Darkness was abandoned, light arose, as happens for one dwelling vigilant, ardent and resolute.

28. When my samadhi was thus purified, cleansed, unblemished, devoid of defilements, malleable, workable, steady, and attained to imperturbability, I directed it to knowledge of the extinction of the asavas. I understood as it has come to be: “This is suffering”; I understood as it has come to be: “This is the origination of suffering”; I understood as it has come to be: “This is the cessation of suffering”; I understood as it has come to be: “This is the path leading to the cessation of suffering.” I understood as it has come to be: “These are the asavas”; I understood as it has come to be: “This is the origination of the asavas”; I understood as it has come to be: “This is the cessation of the asavas”; I understood as it has come to be: “This is the path leading to the cessation of the asavas.” When I knew and saw thus, my mind was liberated from the asava of sensual desire, from the asava of being, and from the asava of ignorance. When it was liberated there came the knowledge: “It is liberated.” I understood “Birth is extincted, the life of purity has been lived, what had to be done has been done, there is nothing else for thusness.” This, O Brahmin, was the third noble knowledge attained by me in the third watch of the night. Ignorance was abandoned, noble knowledge arose. Darkness was abandoned, light arose, as happens for one dwelling vigilant, ardent and resolute.

29. Yet it might occur to you thus, O Brahmin: “Surely, even today the samana Gotama is not free from lust, not free from hate, not free from delusion, that is why he makes use of secluded dwellings in remote jungle thickets in the forest.” But, O Brahmin, it should not be seen thus. Considering two benefits, O Brahmin, I make use of secluded dwellings in remote jungle thickets in the forest: “Seeing a pleasant abiding for myself here and now, and having compassion for future generations.”
