The Deva Ghatikara:

Having arisen in Aviha,
seven bhikkhus are liberated;
with lust and hate extincted,
they have crossed over the adhesion in the
world.

The Auspicious One:

But who are those that have crossed over the
swamp,
the realm of death so hard to cross;
who, having abandoned the human body,
have overcome the celestial yoke?

Ghatikara:

Upaka and Palaganda,
and Pukkusati, those are the three;
Bhaddiya and Bhaddadeva, Bahudanti and Pingiya;

ghaṭikāra devatā:

avihaṃ upapannā se,
vimuttā satta bhikkhavo;
rāgadosaparikkhiṇā,
tiṇṇā loke visattikanti.

bhagavā:

ke ca te ataruṃ saṅgaṃ⁷,
maccudheyyaṃ suduttaraṃ;
ke hitvā mānusaṃ dehaṃ,
dibbaṃ yogaṃ⁸ upaccagum.

ghaṭikāra:

upako palagaṇḍo ca,
pukkusāti ca te tayo;
bhaddiyo bhaddadevo ca,
bāhudantī ca piṅgiyo;
te hitvā mānusaṃ dehaṃ, dibbaṃ yogaṃ⁸ upaccagunti.

those having abandoned the human body,
have overcome the celestial yoke.

The Auspicious One:

Favourable are the words you speak of those,
who have abandoned Mara's snare;
having understood whose Dhamma,
have they severed the bondage to being?

Ghatikara:

Not apart from the Auspicious One,
not apart from your instructions;
for them having understood that Dhamma,
they have severed the bondage to being.

Where name and form,
are held in check without remainder;
those known that Dhamma here,
they have severed the bondage to being.

The Auspicious One:

Deep is the speech you utter,

bhagavā:

kusalī bhāsasi tesam,
mārapāsappahāyinaṃ;
kassa te dhammamaññāya,
acchidum bhavabandhanaṃ.

ghaṭikāra:

na aññatra bhagavatā,
nāññatra tava sāsana;
yassa te dhammamaññāya,
acchidum bhavabandhanaṃ.

yattha nāmañca rūpañca,
asesaṃ uparujjhati;
taṃ te dhammaṃ idhaññāya,
acchidum bhavabandhananti.

bhagavā:

gambhīraṃ bhāsasi vācaṃ,
dubbijānaṃ sudubbudhaṃ;
kassa tvaṃ dhammamaññāya,
vācaṃ bhāsasi īdisanti.

hard to understand, very difficult to understand;
 having understood whose Dhamma,
 do you utter that kind of speech?

Ghatikara:

In the past I was a potter,
 Ghatikara of Vehalinga;
 I looked after my mother and father,
 a disciple of Kassapa.

I abstained from sexual intercourse,
 a celibate one, free from sensual ties;
 I was in the same village with you,
 In the past you were a friend.

I am the one that knows,
 the liberation of these seven bhikkhus;
 with lust and hate extincted,
 world.

The Auspicious One:

That is so, as was then,

ghaṭṭikāra:

kumbhakāro pure āsiṃ,
 vehaliṅge¹ ghaṭṭikaro;
 mātāpettibharo āsiṃ,
 kassapassa upāsako.

virato methunā dhammā,
 brahmacārī nirāmiso;
 ahuvā te sagāmeyyo,
 ahuvā te pure sakhā.

so'haṃ ete² pajānāmi,
 vimutte satta bhikkhavo;
 rāgadosaparikkhīṇe,
 tiṇṇe loke visattikanti.

bhagavā:

evametaṃ tadā āsi,
 yathā bhāsasi bhaggava;
 kumbhakāro pure āsi,
 vehaliṅge ghaṭṭikaro.

mātāpettibharo āsi,
 kassapassa upāsako.
 virato methunā dhammā,

just as you say, O Bhaggava;
 in the past you were a potter,
 Ghatikara of Vehalinga.

You looked after your mother and father,
 a disciple of Kassapa,
 you abstained from sexual intercourse,
 a celibate one, free from sensual ties;
 you were in the same village with me,
 in the past you were a friend.

elders:

That is just so in the past,
 was the meeting of friends;
 both of them self-developed,
 bearers of their last body

brahmacārī nirāmiso;
 ahuvā me sagāmeyyo,
 ahuvā me pure sakhāti.

therā:

evametaṃ purāṇānaṃ,
 sahāyānaṃ ahu³ saṅgamo;
 ubhinnaṃ bhāvitattānaṃ,
 sarīrantimadhārinanti.
