

0.0.1 The Great Discourse on Classification of Kamma

1. Thus was heard by me. At one time the Auspicious One was dwelling in Raja-gaha at the Bamboo Grove, the Squirrel's feeding place. At that time the venerable Samiddhi was a forest hut dweller.

2. Now Potaliputta, the wanderer, who was walking and wandering about, walking along back and forth, stopped by the venerable Samiddhi. Upon arrival, he exchanged friendly greetings with the venerable Samiddhi. Having exchanged friendly greetings and cordial talk, he sat down to one side. Having sat down to one side, Potaliputta, the wanderer, said this to the venerable Samiddhi: "In the presence of the samana Gotama, O friend Samiddhi, this was heard by

For indeed misrepresentation of the Auspicious One is not good. The Auspicious One would definitely not say thus: “Bodily kamma is empty, verbal kamma is empty, only mental kamma is true.” “And there is an attainment, O friend, whereby one who has entered upon

8. Then Potaliputta, the wanderer, neither delighted in nor rejected the venerable Samiddhi's statement. Having not delighted in, having not rejected, having risen up from his seat, he departed.

9. Then the venerable Samiddhi, not long after Potaliputta, the wanderer had left, approached the venerable Ananda. Upon arrival, he exchanged friendly greetings with the venerable Ananda. Having exchanged friendly greetings and cordial talk, he sat down to one side. Having sat down to one side, the venerable Samiddhi informed the venerable Ananda the full extent of his friendly conversation with Potaliputta, the wanderer. When thus was said, the venerable Ananda said this to the venerable samiddhi: "This subject of conversation, O friend Samiddhi, is indeed worth see-of the venerable Samiddhi's conversation with Potaliputta, the wanderer.

11. When thus was said, the Auspicious One said this to the venerable Ananda. "I, O Ananda, do not even recall seeing Potaliputta, the wanderer, so how could there have been such a conversation. But O Ananda, this empty man Samiddhi answered Potaliputta, the wanderer's question categorically when [it is a question] to be answered after making a distinction."

I knew just now, O Ananda, that this empty man Udayi, while deducing will deduce without root reason consideration. From the very start, O Ananda, Potaliputta, the wanderer, asked about the three-fold feeling. If, O Ananda, this empty man Samiddhi when asked by Potaliputta, the wanderer, would have answered thus: “Having done an intentional kamma to be felt as pleasure by body, speech or mind, O friend Potaliputta, one experiences pleasure.” “Having done an intentional kamma to be felt as pain by body, speech or mind, O friend Potaliputta,

But, O Ananda, who are those foolish and incompetent wanderers of other standpoints, that they will understand the Tathagata’s great classification of kamma.
