

0.0.1 Pure Mind

1. This indeed was said by the Auspicious One, said by the Arahant, as heard by me:

2. “Here I, O bhikkhus, by encompassing a certain individual of a pure mind with my own mind, I understand thus: Were this individual to die at this moment, he will be put down in heaven accordingly as if carried [there]. What is the reason for that? Because his mind, O bhikkhus, is pure. It is with a pure mind as cause, O bhikkhus, that some individual here, with the breakup of the body, after death, arises in the happy destination, the heavenly worlds.”

3. This is the meaning of what the Auspicious One said. Thus, this was said there:

“Having known the pure mind,
of a certain individual here;
this meaning was explained,
to the bhikkhus in the Buddha’s presence.

Were this individual to pass away,
at this very moment indeed;
he would arise in a happy destination,
because of his pure mind.

As if having been carried [there],
it is just so for such a person;

with a pure mind as cause,
such beings go to the happy destinations.”

4. “This too is the meaning of what was said by the Auspicious One. Thus was heard by me”.
