carasuttam

1. This indeed was said by the Auspicious One, said by the Arahant, as heard by me.

vuttam hetam bhagavatā vuttamarahatā'ti me sutam:

2. “If while walking, O bhikkhus, a thought of sensual desire or a thought of ill will or a thought of harming arises for a bhikkhu, and if O bhikkhus, that bhikkhu endures it, does not abandon it, does not dispel it, does not annihilate it, does not put it out of existence, then O bhikkhus, a bhikkhu who has come to be thus is called truly devoid of ardor, morally reckless, constantly and continuously lazy, lacking in energy while walking.”

carato cepi bhikkhave bhikkhuno uppajjati kāma-vitakko vā vyāpādavitakko vā vihiṃsāvitakko vā. tañce bhikkhave bhikkhū adhivāseti nappajahati na vinodeti na byantīkaroti na anabhāvaṃ gameti, carampi bhikkhave bhikkhū evambhūto anātāpī anottappī satataṃ samitaṃ kusīto hīnaviriyo'ti vucati.

3. “Also if while standing, O bhikkhus, a thought of sensual desire or a thought of ill will or a thought of harming arises for a bhikkhu, and if O bhikkhus, that bhikkhu endures it, does not abandon it, does not dispel it, does not annihilate it, does not put it out of existence, then O bhikkhus, a bhikkhu who has come to be thus is called truly devoid of ardor, morally reckless, constantly and continuously lazy, lacking in energy while standing.”

ṭhitassa ce'pi bhikkhave bhikkhuno uppajjati kāmavitakkovā vyāpādavitakko vā vihiṃsāvitakko vā. tañce bhikkhave bhikkhū adhvāseti nappajahati na vinodeti na byantīkahoti na anabhāvaṃ gameti, ṭhito'pi bhikkhave bhikkhū evamabhūto anātāpī anottappī satataṃ samitaṃ kusīto hīnaviriyo'ti vuccati.

4. “Also if while sitting, O bhikkhus, a thought of sensual desire or a thought of ill will or a thought of harming arises for a bhikkhu, and if O bhikkhus, that bhikkhu endures it, does not abandon it, does not dispel it, does not annihilate it, does not put it out of existence, then O bhikkhus, a bhikkhu who has come to be thus is called truly devoid of ardor, morally reckless, constantly and continuously lazy, lacking in energy while sitting.”

nisinnassa cepi bhikkhave bhikkhuno uppajjati kāmavitakko vā vyāpādavitakko vā vihiṃsāvitakko vā. tañce bhikkhave bhikkhū adhvāseti nappajahati na vinodeti na byantīkaroti na anabhāvaṃ gameti, nisinno'pi kho bhikkhave bhikkhū evambhūto anātāpī anottappī satataṃ samitaṃ kusīto hīnaviriyo'ti vuccati.

5. “Also if while lying down, O bhikkhus, a thought of sensual desire or a thought of ill will or a thought of harming arises for a bhikkhu, and if O bhikkhus, that bhikkhu endures it, does not abandon it, does not dispel it, does not annihilate it, does not put it out of existence, then O bhikkhus, a bhikkhu who has come to be thus is called truly devoid of ardor, morally reckless, constantly and continuously lazy, lacking in energy while lying down.”

sayānasasa ce'pi bhikkhave bhikkhuno jāgarassa uppañjati kāmavitakkovā vyāpādavitakko vā vihiṃ-sāvitakko vā. tañce bhikkhave bhikkhū adhivāseti nappajahati na vinodeti na byantīkahoti na anabhāvaṃ gameti, sayāno'pi bhikkhave bhikkhū jāgaro evamabhūto anātāpī anottappī satataṃ samitaṃ kusīto hīnaviriyo'ti vuccati.

6. “If while walking, O bhikkhus, a thought of sensual desire or a thought of ill will or a thought of harming arises for a bhikkhu, and if O bhikkhus, that bhikkhu does not endure it, abandons it, dispels it, annihilates it, puts it out of existence, then O bhikkhus, a bhikkhu who has come to be thus is called truly ardent, morally heedful, has his energy constantly and continuously aroused, a self-resolute one while walking.”

carato cepi bhikkhave bhikkhuno uppajjati kāmavitakko vā vyāpādavitakko vā vihiṃsāvitakko vā. tañce bhikkhave bhikkhū nādhivāseti pajahati vinodeti byantīkaroti anabhāvaṃ gameti, carampi bhikkhave bhikkhū evambhūto ātāpī ottappī sataṃ samitaṃ āraddhaviriyo pahitatto'ti vuccati.

ṭhitasasa ce'pi bhikkhave bhikkhuno uppajjati kāmavitakko vā vyāpādavitakko vā vihiṃsāvitakko vā. tañce bhikkhave bhikkhū nādhivāseti pajahati vinodeti byantīkaroti anabhāvaṃ gameti, ṭhito'pi bhikkhave bhikkhū evambhūto ātāpī ottappī sataṃ samitaṃ āraddhaviriyo pahitatto'ti vuccati. hīnaviriyo'ti vuccati.

8. “Also if while sitting, O bhikkhus, a thought of sensual desire or a thought of ill will or a thought of harming arises for a bhikkhu, and if O bhikkhus, that bhikkhu does not endure it, abandons it, dispels it, annihilates it, puts it out of existence, then O bhikkhus, a bhikkhu who has come to be thus is called truly ardent, morally heedful, has his energy constantly and continuously aroused, a self-resolute one while sitting.”

nisinnassa cepi bhikkhave bhikkhuno uppajjati kāmavitakko vā vyāpādavitaṅko vā vihiṃsāvitakko vā. tañce bhikkhave bhikkhū nādhivāseti pajahati vinodeti byantīkaroti anabhāvaṃ gameti, nisinnopi bhikkhave bhikkhū evambhūto ātāpi ottappi satataṃ samitaṃ āradhaviṇṇaṃ pahitaṭṭhi vuccati.

sayānasassa ce'pi bhikkhave bhikkhuno jāgarassa uppajjati kāmavitakko vā vyāpādavitaṅko vā vihiṃsāvitakko vā. tañce bhikkhave bhikkhū nādhivāseti pajahati vinodeti byantīkaroti anabhāvaṃ gameti, sayānopi bhikkhave bhikkhū jāgaro e vambhūto ātāpi ottappi satataṃ samitaṃ āradhaviṇṇaṃ pahitaṭṭhi vuccati.

“Whether walking or standing,
sitting or lying down;
whatever evil thoughts one thinks,
connected to the household life.

caraṃ vā yadi vā tiṭṭhaṃ,
nisinno uda vā sayama;
yo vitakkaṃ vitakketi,
pāpakā gehanissitaṃ.

He has entered on the wrong path, infatuated among things that cause infatuation;
such a bhikkhu is not capable,
to touch supreme self-awakening.

kummaggamaṃ paṭipanna so,
mohaneyyesu mucchito;
abhabbo tādiso bhikkhu,
phuṭṭhumaṃ sambodhimuttamaṃ.

Whoever while walking or standing,
sitting or lying down;
having calmed his thoughts,
delights in the stilling of thinking;
that bhikkhu, the such-like one,
is capable to touch supreme self-awakening.”

yo caraṃ vā'tha tiṭṭhaṃ vā,
nisinno uda vā sayama;

vitakkam samayitvāna,
 vitakkūpasame rato;
 bhabbo so tādiso bikkhū, phutṭhum sambodhimuttamanti.

10. “This too is the meaning of what was said by the Auspicious One. Thus was heard by me.”
